# from role-model to terrorist #

A small Working with Europe case questioning who can be radicalised and how radicalisation can take place - prepared for the CHRIS and PRIDE projects, and for further European initiatives...

It's the story of a group of young people radicalized in the small town of Ripoll in Catalonia Spain - resulting in the terrorist attack in Barcelona August 2017.

# Erasmus+ 2018 coming up... #

We start the new Erasmus+ initiatives for the 2018 Call from October. As our Erasmus+ success rate is 60% we are confident to develop new projects, at the same time avoiding the most problematic National Agencies.

Some of the top priority topics for the new applications will be: entrepreneurship in education, audio-visual guidance for families and care-takers responsible for people with dementia and radicalisation prevention in schools and beyond. Interested?

# Horizon Call - entrepreneurial transformation #

In collaboration with highly qualified professionals from Catalonia, Working with Europe will take serious interest in the Horizon 2018-20 SC5-20-2019 Call:

Transforming historic urban areas and cultural landscapes into hubs of entrepreneurship and social and cultural integration

In collaboration with our Catalan and with key European resources we expect to drive the process towards a competitive application.

# iCAP granted #

The Erasmus+ iCAP project was granted in August in the UK. iCAP is one of the first practice-oriented projects in the EU responding to the Commission's recent invitations to establish experimentation with the creation of innovation interest, skills and capacity in primary and secondary school, and it also contributes to a new generation of Erasmus responding to the increasing EU interest in entrepreneurship and innovation based schooling.

The project is coordinated by the University of Gloucestershire.

# open science schooling granted #

The 30 months Erasmus+ project OPEN SCIENCE SCHOOLING was granted in June 2017.

The project will experiment with new open science didactics in secondary schools from across Europe - to create useful guidance for schools to innovate science learning and re-engage young students in science and science learning.

The project is coordinated by University of East Finland.

# PRIDE granted #

The PRIDE project (Erasmus+ Youth) - Prevent Radicalisation through Identity Development - was granted April 2017. The project will develop innovative tools to prevent radicalisation among young migrants. PRIDE thus tackles the threat of radicalisation among young migrants and empowers them to manage the process of migration in a purposeful and positive way.

The project is coordinated by Kultur-Life from Germany.
