innovative projects and partnerships across Europe

SEPTEMBER 2015

The brief news updates from Working with Europe simply aims to offer a short view on our present work and situation

# 3 new submissions after summer #

Working with Europe is deeply involved in 3 new European project applications to be submitted after summer:

Science Learning and Careering 3.0 is a Horizon research and innovation project (coordinated by USV in Romania), I am a Sport Entrepreneur - What R U is an Erasmus+ project (coordinated by East London University UK) and EUrban Dance is an Erasmus+ Youth project (coordinated by Don't Hit Mama from Amsterdam).

# budget tools for EU applications #

Many people do not like creating budgets for European project applications, whether in Horizon, Erasmus+ or elsewhere...

Working with Europe has created a collection of easy-to-use budget tools for these programs that enables you to create solid, precise and accurate budgets for your applications - the collection is described here. The budget tools have been tested on several occasions.

# science learning network #

Working with Europe is increasingly engaged in projects about innovative ways to make science learning attractive to children and young people. Based on the engagement in the Horizon Science Learning and Careering 3.0 application, we are now building up a European network of partners interested in science learning innovation - aiming to create further European initiatives in this field in 2016 and 2017, including several Erasmus+ projects. ### # EU training courses - in two ways #

Working with Europe offers Europe-wide frontline training courses for institutions and professionals on the most important topics in European policy and collaboration. Take a look!

The training courses are also from 2016 delivered as funded EU courses through the Erasmus KA1 action. However, those EU funded training courses require appropriate application work and planning at institutional level.

# capacity building collection #

We are involved in various EU projects addressing the short-comings of traditional adult education and empowerment and developing new action-oriented directions for unemployed adults. We have collected a rich material on this topic and this collection can be viewed in the website's resource section. You might also wish to take a look at:

# NEET U approved #

The Erasmus+ NEET U project, coordinated by Pistes Solidaires in France, was approved this summer.

The project aims to experiment with and create useful models for how skilled and experienced seniors can act as mentors and role-models for young NEET's going entrepreneurial and making an effort to create their own future.

By the way, interesting ideas for the 2016 Erasmus+ Call?
